JAS. B. HAGGIN DEAD.

Master of Elmendorf Dies in Newport, R. I., After a Long Illness.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 12.—Mr. James B. Haggin, noted financier and turtman, passed away shortly before 10 o'clock this evening at his summer home, Villa Rosa. He had been in poor health, because of his advanced age, ever since his arrival for the season at Newport, in the early part of June, and never left the house. He was unconscious for a few hours before his death.

Mrs. Haggin was with him until the end and no plans had been made this evening regarding the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Haggin came to Newport for the season the first time last year when they occupied Arleigh, in Bellevue Avenue, and last fall he purchased the beautiful estate known as Villa Rosa, in Bellevue Avenue, formerly owned by E. Rollins Morse, which he had extensively improved this spring.

Mr. Haggin was last in Lexington in the late spring, when he visited Elmendorf for a few days after which he returned to New York to give attention to his large business affairs.

It is understood that the immediate cause of Mr. Haggin's death was heart disease, but it is known that for some time he suffered from a complication of diseases incident to the growing infirmities of age, and that this condition was aggravated by a fall which Mr. Haggin had about a year ago.

James B. Haggin was by birth a Kentuckian, born in Harrodsburg, Mercer county, in 1817. His family was one of the foremost in the Blue Grass region, and he was educated at Danville, Ky., by the best masters. Being destined for the legal profession he received a thorough preparation and was admitted to the bar of the State of Kentucky.

He began practice in Shelbyville, Ky., but later went to Natchez, Miss., and after that to New Orleans made his way to California, arriving there in 1850 via Panama.

His first wife was a daughter of Colonel Lewis Saunders, of Natchez, Miss. Of the five children of this marriage, three survive, Louis T. Haggin, a New York business man; Mrs. Lounsbury, wife of Richard P. Lounsbury, of New York, and Mrs. McAfee, his grandson, who was also a favorite relative, Louis Lee Haggin, is well-known in Lexington, as he has been living on one of the Elmendorf farms for some years.

Mr. Haggin's second wife was Miss Pearl Voorhies of Versailles who was a niece of his first wife. She survives him.

The body of Mr. Haggin was taken to New York yesterday and the burial was in the family vault at Woodland Cemetery, where also the funeral, which was private, was held.

Mr. Haggin's property holdings in Lexington and Fayette county were large. Elmendorf Farm, one of the most valuable properties of its type in the United States, contains about eleven thousand acres and costly improvements in addition to the palatial mansion and grounds known as "Green Hill."

LAT WAR BULLETINS.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "A dispatch from Basel, Switzerland, states that between Boltzheim and Sierenz, Alsace, French cavalry, supported by artillery, has annihilated two squadrons of German cavalry. All the horses of the invaders were killed. The number of German troopers killed was very large."

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 13.—A Prague newspaper says Serbian women and children are helping fight the Austrians. One twelve-year-old girl, lying wounded in Teusatz Hospital, boasts of throwing 16 hand grenades at her country's enemy.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The retirement of the German armies virtually all along the line in France continues, according to French official reports, and advices from Switzerland describe the profound impression the news of the German retreat has created along the Swiss-German frontier and in various parts of Germany. Already the German forces have been ushered back by the allied armies at some points for a distance of 60 miles or more, and the French have succeeded in reoccupying various towns which they evacuated two weeks ago.

WILL SUE WATER COMPANY.

Alleging that on account of the insufficient water pressure furnished by the Paris Water Company on the night of Monday, Sept. 7, his plant on South Main street was destroyed by fire, Mr. J. H. Stivers, of the Stivers Lumber Co., is preparing to bring suit against the Water Company for damages sustained in the fire and loss of his property. He will be joined in the suit by the insurance companies which carried the loss on his property, whose attorneys are now at work preparing the case.

RETURNED PARISIAN

Tells of Unusual Experiences in European Capitals During Enforced Stay.

After experiencing the unusual sensation of being marooned in a foreign country, not very remote from the zone of fighting Germans, Russian, French, British and other belligerents of war-ridden Europe, Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson and son, Mr. James Thompson, Jr., arrived safely and thankfully at their beautiful country home on the Lexington pike, last Thursday night.

Mr. Thompson told in a most interesting manner of the trials, troubles and varied experiences of his party in the old world. He said:

"What General Sherman said about war is true, every word of it, and although we passed through the countries at war, and witnessed many thrilling and horrifying spectacles, to say nothing of dangerous situations, we would not give anything for our experiences. We were in Venice when war was declared, and as every train available was needed to transport the troops, we were forced to remain there for three weeks.

"A great many Americans were in Venice, and mass meetings were held at the Grand Hotel to devise means for us to get out of the country. After a wait of 21 days we were able to leave Venice and proceeded to Geneva, from which point we secured train passage to Paris. We were forced to show our passports at every turn, as the French were greatly worried lest German spies would get into their country and secure valuable information as to movements of their troops. On our way to Paris our train was sidetracked many times to allow troop trains the right of way. Trainload after trainload of soldiers passed up, and the real horrors of war were brought very forcibly to our minds. Following each troop train were many cars on which were loaded ambulances followed by cars piled high with lime. Every train that we saw carried a carload of lime. We talked with many of the French soldiers along the route, and all seemed to be in high spirits, and particularly were they friendly when told that we were Americans.

"At one stop my son was very anxious to get a snap shot of some of the French soldiers who were resting along the way, and had his camera poised ready to snap when an officer standing by chanced to glance in his direction. A heavy cane which he was carrying was hurled at the camera, and only the fact that my son had it strapped to him saved it from total ruin. The officers were greatly peeved at our attempt to photo his men, and it took considerable argument on our part before we were allowed to pass on.

Found Paris Deserted.

"Arriving in Paris we found the big city totally deserted, save for women and men whose age prevented them from being pressed into service.

"At the Continental Hotel out of 300 employees only 10 remained, the other 290 having been called to arms. The old taxi driver who drove us around the city had two sons who were in the army, and only the fact that he was too old to shoulder arms saved him from being called upon. Everywhere throughout France is a scene of activity. Every engine is under steam and ready for immediate use. From Paris we went to Bologna, and crossing over from the latter place to Folkestone, England, we were never out of sight of a cruiser. England has her seaboard fortified splendidly. Fifty-eight train loads of Russian soldiers were landed at Aberdeen, Scotland, having been brought in around the North Cape. From here they were transported to Dover and then shipped across the channel into France. Many more of the Russians will be sent into France in this manner.

"The English people seem to be scared to death, and they had great difficulty in securing volunteers after their first 100,000 had been recruited. So hard pressed were they that they lifted the age limit and permitted all to enlist who so desired. Taxis and many other vehicles are seen upon the streets bearing signs reading 'Fight for the King.' From the trouble experienced in getting volunteers for army service it seems as though the people over there are not very much enthused with the idea of fighting for the King. Our ship, like all others, was in constant danger of hostile vessels, and two days out we were stopped by a French cruiser. After assuring them who we were we proceeded, but always with all port holes covered and no light of any kind showing. There were 2,200 passengers on the ship, the normal capacity being about 1,200. Many European scenes are truly wonderful and picturesque, but I don't think that any compare to the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor, particularly in a war-ridden country such as Europe is at the present time. I was never so glad to see anything in my life, and I think I vouch the same opinion of all on board the Laconia. No place like home after all."

SUSPECT ARRESTED.

Man Accused of Stealing 120 Miles of Copper Wire From L. & N. Railroad.

That he cut and disposed of 120 miles of copper telegraph wire from poles between Falmouth and Paris, rolling the wire into a hoop from pole to pole, and carrying it away in an automobile, is the accusation brought Hiram Frank, aged 26, a young farm hand of near Falmouth. The charge was brought by Detectives Center and Gerhardt, of the Cincinnati detective office, and Detectives Sanford and Parker, of the Covington force, who have been working on the case for several weeks.

The wire was in three strands, and was strung over forty miles of road. The police say that the wire is the property of the Western Union Telegraph Company, but because of an injunction brought by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad against the lines being operated on its grounds it lay idle for some time.

It is alleged that Frank cut up 800 pounds of the wire into short pieces and sold them in Cincinnati and the across-the-river cities. He claimed that the wire had been sold to him by another man, who he says he will produce at the time of his trial. Other accomplices in the steal are being sought, and the police say one of the men implicated is a resident of Paris, though not here now. They have their dragnets set and arrests are expected soon.

Frank is being held for the Falmouth authorities. The wire which it is claimed he stole was a part of the new block signal system being erected by the Louisville & Nashville system between Covington and Paris.

While playing with a 22-caliber Winchester rifle at their home on the farm of Mrs. Cyril Goodman, on the Spears' Mill pike, Sunday, Sherman Fields, a six-year-old son of Ed. GET THE HABIT!

IT WILL PAY!

Being unable to see all my friends and customers, I take this method of communication. As a direct result of the European conflict, nearly all the staple food stuffs have made sensational advances during the past month. Flour, Meat, Lard, Sugar, Coffee, etc., have all advanced and will probably go much higher.

The terms which the dealers now get from packers and jobbers are becoming more stringent, to carry customers for thirty days or longer and to allow for bad debts would make it necessary to tie up a great deal of capital in the business, and as this advancement in prices has also caused a stringency in the money market, it make it impossible to do business on the old basis. Owing to said conditions I have decided to put our business on

PACKERS CONTROL PRICES OF BEEF, SAYS WITNESS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Beef packers of the United States now are in absolute control of the Argentine output of beef, thus destroying the value of Argentine beef as a competitive check on the price of native beef, according to testimony given before Chief Magistrate McAdoo today at the inquiry into the advance in food prices. Jacob Block, member of a firm owning several meat markets in this city, asserted that every bit of beef from Argentina must now be bought from the American packers.

As an instance of how this control influenced the price, the witness stated that at one time beef hearts could be bought for 25 cents each. When the American packers obtained control of the Argentine output, he continued, beef hearts were put into cold storage, thus diminishing the supply, so that to-day the cost of these hearts is about $1.50 each.

The packers have arranged the territory outside New York City so that the small dealers are at their mercy, Mr. Block testified.

In a small town incapable of supporting more than one good sized establishment, one packing concern is located, and the butchers are forced to buy from that one packer. In large places the business is split up.

Asked to explain the cause of the present shortage of beef, the witness said a shortage had existed for thirteen years. In that time, he said, the supply of cattle in this country fell short of the demand by 16,000,000 and the shortage was growing more pronounced.

As remedies for the present conditions, he offered the following suggestions for action by Congress:

An export duty should be placed on beef; the Government lands of the West should be thrown open for grazing; killing of any female calf under three or five years old, or of any calf weighing less than 150 pounds, should be prohibited; ten per cent. of the income tax should be used for fostering the raising of cattle; and public slaughterhouses, like those of England, should be established by the Government.

Dr. W. F. Phillips, aged about fifty-eight years, committed suicide hanging himself with a rope halter in the barn of his brother-in-law, Mr. Robert Rankin, near Morning Glory, in Harrison County, Wednesday evening.

Deceased was a brother-in-law of Oscar Rankin, of Bourbon County, and an uncle of Capt. C. E. Peterson, conductor on the local L. & N. passenger train between Cynthia and Lexington.

Dr. Rankin was one of the most prominent physicians in Harrison County, and was a prominent Mason. His finances are said to be in excellent shape, and no cause is assigned for his rash act.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice Rankin Phillips, and one daughter, Mrs. Grover Buckner, of Harrison County.

The funeral services will be held at the residence at Morning Glory, Saturday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, conducted by Rev. S. H. Burgess. Burial at Battle Grove cemetery.

EARLY WAR NEWS.

EUROPEAN WAR IN BRIEF.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—Cracow, capital of Austrian Poland and a stronghold, was captured by the Russians.

German forces are still falling back in France, according to an announcement, which also says, the allies have gained about 40 miles of territory in their advance, an increase of 12 in the operations during the past 24 hours.

British and French forces have crossed the River Marne, the British capturing men and guns. The action of greatest severity is being fought between Mailly and Vitry-le-Francois.

In the engagement between British and Germans in Nyassaland, British Central Africa, the Germans, according to the British official press bureau, were driven back to the River Songwe, which is part of the frontier between the British and German protectorates.

Prince Joachim Albrecht, of Prussia, son of the late Prince Frederick Albert, Regent of Brunswick, and a second cousin of the German Emperor, and Prince Frederick of Hesse have been wounded in battle.

The British Prime Minister has called for more men to serve the country, and when the Government's plans are completed the British army will number 1,854,000 men.

Additional British casualties have been made public covering the period up to September 7, and bringing the total for the campaign close to 19,000 killed, wounded and missing.

President Wilson was informed by Ambassador Page that Great Britain would not heed offers of peace until Germany had been decisively defeated. This statement was taken as evidence that Page had been directed to inquire as to England's sentiment in the matter and as confirmation of the report that the Kaiser asked President Wilson to intercede when his army was victorious.

TURKEY'S OPPORTUNITY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Turkey formerly notified the United States and the nations of the world Sept. 10 that she had abrogated the series of conventions, treaties and privileges originating as early as the Eleventh Century, whereby foreigners in the Ottoman Empire have been exempt from local jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases.

Foreign subjects no longer will enjoy what is known as extra territorial rights, through which they have been tried by their own judges, diplomatic representatives or Consuls.

This practice, abolished by Japan several years ago through the negotiation of new treaties, Turkey has removed by a stroke of the pen. Her purpose, it is desired, is to assert her independence and free herself from the domination of the great Powers.

Upon the rights revoked has rested the legal status of American missionaries in Turkey, permitting them to maintain churches, hospitals and schools in religious freedom. Administration officials declined to-night to discuss the effect of the action on American missions.

"The removal of every kind of privileges enjoyed by the Powers in excess of what the general principles of international law allow is the meaning of this step," A. Rustem Bey, Turkish Ambassador to the United States declared to-night. "This war is Turkey's opportunity."

GERMANS RECEDE 46 MILES.

PARIS, September 11, 3:17 p. m.—News from the fighting line to the east of Paris is to the effect at some points the Germans have retired from sixty to seventy-five kilometers (from 37 to 46 miles.)

BRITISH CAPTURE GERMAN LINER NOORDAM.

LONDON, September 11.—The Exchange Telegraph Company announces that the Holland-American liner Noordam, bound from New York to Rotterdam, with German reservists and a general cargo, also destined for Germany, has been captured in the Atlantic and is being brought in to Queenstown by a British cruiser. The prisoners will reach Queenstown accompanied by British cruisers en route to the place of detention.

INDIAN TROOPS PASS THROUGH CANADA.

CLEVELAND, O., September 11.—British East India troops now passing through Canada total not less than 100,000, with heavy contingents of cavalry, artillery and field equipment.

This became known definitely through statements of Ohio business men who have been commissioned by the Canadian Pacific to furnish provisions to the troops while on their long journey across the continent.

PEACE OVERTURES TALKED OF.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Authentic information came Thursday night from one of the highest sources in the Government confirming the report that cautious overtures for peace recently were made through this Government by Germany.

At the particular moment that the other belligerents were to be sounded on the question of a cessation of hostilities the success of the German armies had been continuous and irresistible. Germany was occupying Belgium, and her army had pushed forward into France and had possession of one half of the northeastern part of that country. Russia had not yet destroyed the Austrian army in Galicia, but had begun her invasion of Eastern Prussia.

It is almost significant fact that just about the time the way for peace was thus opened by the successful Germans, Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Minister, suddenly summoned the French and Russian Ambassadors and the three of them signed up the famous agreement that none of the allies would negotiate peace separately. This and subsequent diplomatic events all tend to substantiate the news which developed to-night. A day or two after the compact between the allies was signed, Italy was informed by them that if she remained neutral the Triple Entente would permit her to engage in the settlement of peace at the conclusion of the war, and, almost simultaneously, Japan, the active ally of Great Britain, was assured that she also would be permitted to participate.

POPE IS TO MAKE EFFORT FOR PEACE.

ROME, September 11.—The forthcoming Papal encyclical, the issue of which has been purposely delayed until the result of the decisive battle is known, will contain an appeal for peace.

Pope Benedict has approached Austria and Germany through their envoys here, and both informed the Pontiff that they are favorably disposed to second his efforts for peace.

The Czar is understood to be prepared to submit the Pope's offer to the deferential consideration of Great Britain and Austria. Pope Benedict hopes that his appeal may lead to an armistice, which would be a prelude to peace.

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA WILL NOT MAKE PEACE SEPARATELY.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 11.—The Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin declares that previous to the outbreak of war Germany and Austria-Hungary agreed, as now have the parties to the Triple Entente, not to make peace separately.

ROUMANIA, GREECE AND BULGARIA TO PREVENT TURKS AIDING GERMANY.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The attitude of Turkey, which has been a subject of paramount anxiety to the foreign offices of Europe seems to have been decided for her, if a story here is (Continued on Page 6.)

TOBACCO TRADE ISSUES WARNING.

Says Prohibition Campaign Will Be Followed By Fight on Tobacco.

BILL OFFERED IN LOUISIANA.

Planters and Dealers Cautioned Against "Unjustifiable Attacks of Extremists."

(Advertisement.)

Believing that prohibitionists are preparing to launch a vigorous campaign seeking to make illegal the culture, manufacture and sale of tobacco in the State of Virginia, members of the Richmond Tobacco Trade at a called meeting, passed resolutions designed to warn those engaged in the tobacco business against "the threatened attack" and intended to protect tobacco interests against the "unreasoning and unjustifiable attacks of extremists." Ten thousand copies of the resolution will be printed for immediate distribution, and steps are being taken to inform the tobacco interests throughout the country of the situation.

Tobaccoists believe that to forbid the culture of tobacco in Virginia would be to prohibit one of the largest and most remunerative crops grown in the State, and the farmers would be deprived of a crop which furnishes them much "ready money." Much wealth in the State is invested in tobacco manufacturing plants and storage houses, and to make the manufacture of the weed illegal would, of course, paralyze this industry. In Richmond alone millions of dollars are invested in tobacco enterprises, the city being the largest cigarette manufacturing center in the United States.

A prolific source of revenue would be closed to the United States government should the proposed measure become effective. From The Times Dispatch, Richmond, Va.

HOW TO PROTECT YOUR BOY.

(Advertisement.)

The battle cry of Prohibitionists in every campaign they launch is, "Save the Boy," or "Save the Girl." These advocates of a thing which means the forfeiture of personal rights and liberty, would have every man in Bourbon to believe that liquor is responsible for the downfall of every young man and every young woman, no matter how numerous they might be.

Common sense, if nothing else, assures a man that this is entirely untrue.

The Prohibitionists say, "Vote out the licensed saloon and save your girl." Reports of various committees which have investigated vice in the larger cities of America show that the saloon leads fewer than seven per cent. of the girls who go wrong. The dance hall and poverty are the chief causes of immorality among young women in the cities, and not liquor.

A vast majority of the young women and young men who go wrong are tempted either by love of money or love of lust and a GOOD TIME. So few are those who take the downward path in the licensed saloon that the number is insignificant. WOMEN ARE NOT ALLOWED IN THE SALOONS OF PARIS. The veracity of this statement cannot be questioned.

Licensed saloons PROTECT YOUR BOY instead of ruining him. A law, prohibiting minors from entering saloons in Paris, has always been and is now BEING STRICTLY ADHERED TO. If the licensed saloon houses are voted out, WHAT PROTECTION WILL THERE THEN BE FOR YOUR BOY? A bootlegger, who fears no law, because he can escape the meshes with the payment of a fine, would sell YOUR YOUNG SON any amount of mean whisky as fast as he produces the cash. WOULD THAT BE PROTECTION?

As long as liquor is manufactured there will be thousands of men to drink it. As long as there are men and women there will be immoral men and women. Neither is needed to perpetuate the life of the other. Neither man or woman needs drink liquor to be immoral, and vice versa.

FACTS VS. FICTION.

(Advertisement.)

The official statistician of the dry forces in a recent article in a local paper, casts a brilliant horoscope for the future of Bourbon County in case the dries should not prevail. One would judge from a casual perusal of the article that it was written by a person who was conversant with the facts. But a second and more thorough study of the article will impress anyone with the fact that it bears the ear mark of a distorted mind.

If, as he says, the voting of Bourbon County dry will cause our people to prosper and our county to bloom and blossom as a rose, how does he account for the FACT that 76 out of the 80 pauper counties in Kentucky are Prohibition counties?

How does he account for the FACT that 94 Prohibition counties in Kentucky show a net deficit of $771,494.27, while 26 licensed counties in Kentucky produce a net surplus of $1,189,491.46?

FACTS are FACTS, and fairy tales are but fiction.

The statistician says: "There are fifteen saloons in Paris which pay to the city $1,000 each per year, or $15,000 in all annually.

"They do not pay one cent to the county. Mark that."

It would have been an easy matter for him to have ascertained the truth, if he had wished, and stated that instead of not paying one cent to the county, they pay yearly the sum of $3,300.

He dwells with special emphasis upon the amount we pay our County Attorney and Prosecuting Attorney for the prosecuting of criminals made so by liquor. He does not even hint at the fact that an overwhelming per cent of that amount is paid for the prosecution of bootleggers and speak-easies in local option products.

He says with childlike simplicity, that if these saloons were closed, every cent now spent in them would be to the butcher, baker, or other merchants. It is a well recognized fact, that more liquor is consumed in Carlisle, Cynthiana, and other dry towns now than when the licensed saloon prevailed, and neither the city or county gets one cent of revenue from it.

The entire article teems with misrepresentations, and is evidently written with the hope that the average man will read it, and believe it, and vote accordingly. The only sensible expression in the last line—"This is sheer idocy," and in that we fully concur.

The wet side of this controversy does not attempt to appeal to the sense of humor of the voter by hiring $50 a day humorists to tell him funny stories; nor do they wish to appeal to him in any way but from a strictly business and moral standpoint—that of common sense.

If you want higher taxes in Bourbon County; if you want your money to go to Lexington to help enrich and develop that city and Fayette County, vote dry.

If you want to make Paris a dead town; if you want whisky sold by bootleggers and speak-easies, with no revenue to the city or county, vote dry.

If you want to encourage hypocrisy and moral dishonesty, vote dry. If you want lawless traffic in liquor and increased drunken men on the sly, vote dry.

If you want to prove that Prohibition does not prohibit, but only tends to lessen respect for the law, vote dry.

But if you prefer prosperity to pauperism; sincerity to hypocrisy; regulation to disorder, VOTE WET.

THINK BEFORE CASTING YOUR VOTE SEPTEMBER 28.

(Advertisement.)

Royal E. Cabel, formerly United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in a recent address said that the records show that in 1911, 20,000,000 gallons of whisky went direct to consumers in PROHIBITION TERRITORY by the express route ALONE in shipments of less than two gallons each. Take the licensed saloons from Paris and the city, though losing thousands of dollars IN TAXES ANNUALLY, would still be flooded with liquor of every description. Place the stamp of disapproval of such tactics by voting against Prohibition and FOR the licensed saloon on September 28.

Personal ambitions and greed play the major role in every Prohibition fight—and the one now being made in Paris and Bourbon county is not an exception.

Farmers in Bourbon county interested in the tobacco growing industry should stop, look and listen before they deposit a ballot for prohibition.

This crusade, if successful, will unquestionably be followed by a movement against tobacco.

Every man who thinks he is capable of self-government should oppose prohibition.

When a man governs himself, that is liberty; when he governs another man, that is despotism.

Failing to convince the people of Paris by statistics from "dry" States that Prohibition has given a success local advocates have abandoned this plan—and now are making but one excuse for their fight against a legitimate business. If prohibition has proven a failure everywhere else what reason have Bourbon county voters to believe it will prove successful here?

NOT TIME FOR PASSION.

(Advertisement.)

The question which the voters of Bourbon county are to decide on September 28 is one upon which hinges the future of Paris, and is one which every voter of the county, whether he be a citizen of Paris or a resident of the rural districts, should consider carefully before casting his vote.

This question should not be decided in the heat of passion. Passion has brought ruin to monarchies, to nations and to thousands of men in business, political, private and public life. Passion is similar in many respects to VIOLENCE, or at least leads to such.

Every question decided in an election should be the decision of a calm, deliberate people. Unless it is, there is grave danger of the decision being something other than the VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

There undoubtedly will be every effort resorted to to influence the voters of Bourbon county by advocates of Prohibition. They will stop at nothing.

Passion alone is responsible for the greatest war which is raging in Europe back to BARBARISM. In other words, SNAP JUDGMENT was used, instead of cool, deliberate thought.

How many MOTHERS, how many WIVES, how many BROTHERS and SISTERS, and how many CHILDREN will reap what the rulers of the nations of Europe have sown? Innocent people have met their Maker at the hands of violence, happy homes have been torn asunder and thousands of useful lives wrecked through PASSION.

Are you going to let your vote in the election this month express the sentiment of Passion, or weigh every phase of the question carefully and considerately and refuse to sign the death-warrant of PROSPERITY for PARIS?

WHAT AN OUTSIDER THINKS OF THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

(Advertisement.)

A prominent railroad contractor, who has lived long enough in Paris to understand local conditions, but who has no more interest in the affairs of the city than any other transient resident, in discussing the liquor question on the streets this week, expressed the opinion that local option in Paris would be the greatest possible blow to the city's wonderful growth and prosperity. He said in part:

"If Prohibition would prohibit the manufacture of liquor, there might be some sense in passing a prohibitive law, but the passage of a local option law in a city like Paris, with Lexington wet, as it is conceded it will be by even some of the dry forces of that city, would cause great havoc to the growth and prosperity of Paris.

"Personally, I am not a drinking man, and would not be affected whether prohibition carries or not, but to one like myself, an outsider, the situation looks grave. In my judgment, if Paris votes 'dry' all decent motorists and travelers would have to find a new route between Paris and Lexington. I believe there would be more 'joy-riders,' more automobile wrecks and more ruined young men, if Prohibition carries, than are caused by all the open saloons at present in the city."

This sentiment is expressed by every fair-minded man who has considered the question in a fair-minded manner. It has been always thus. What a man wants, he wants; and what he can't have, he wants worse than ever. If all he has to do is to stop for a moment in an open saloon to secure a drink of whisky, the whisky loses its attraction in many cases, and two-thirds of the time he doesn't take the trouble to stop for his drink. But if in his mind is the idea that he is forbidden to drink in his home town, and that he may by stealth outwit the authorities and secure that now coveted drink, he'd go 100 miles for that one drink, and then because that came easy, he would keep on drinking according to his thirst or his capacity.

Lexington is only eighteen miles away, and how easy it would be for the man to go there for the drink he could not secure here—and who would stop with ONE drink, after he has gone to the trouble and expense of traveling eighteen miles for it? We believe the railroad man is right. Prohibition would work havoc to the business interests of Paris, and put a big additional revenue into the coffers of wily Lexington.

THE BATTLE HYMN OF THE BOOTLEGGER.

Onward, Christian soldier.
Kick out the demon Rum!
Close up the licensed places
So we may sell you some.
Force the hateful liquor
Without the pale of law,
Fight the ordered system
With sand within your craw.

Onward, Christian soldiers!
Closed up the cursed saloon!
Make the old town drier
Than the sands upon the dune!
Then we'll get our blessing—
They'll come raining down in showers—
You'll satisfy your conscience
While we'll be getting OURS!

Onward, Christian soldiers!
Your best work you must give!
The tigers and bootleggers
Have got a right to live.
Fall on these institutions!
Aye, onward with the dance!
Close up the licensed places
That we may have a chance!

Onward, Christian soldier
Make this the "garden spot!"
Raise clover on the sidewalks
And places where 'tis not!
Dig up our leveled asphalt!
Make pastures for our cow!
Let's turn to agriculture;
We're too prosperous anyhow!

Onward, Christian soldiers!
Tear down the throne of hell!
That we may build another
That will serve US just as well!
What the use of having taverns
As they did in olden days?
Blind pigs will be much better
And, then, they're not so bold.

Onward, Christian soldiers
Until the victor's won!
Fight our glorious battle
Until the day is done!
Then we'll be in clover—
In gentle rosy bowers—
You'll satisfy your conscience
And we'll be getting ours!

LUKE McLUKE SAYS.

I know a whole slew of men who are hard-working fellows who behave themselves, hold their jobs and treat their families kindly, and yet like a glass of beer now and then. But these fellows must either stick to water or be classed as sets, rummies and booze-fighters by our "liberal" friends, the Prohibitionists.

A whole lot of the lads in the dry counties who vote the Prohibition ticket always carry a cork screw and a beer opener on their key rings.

One reason why we are so strong for prohibition is because a man has no business in a saloon drinking a cold glass of beer ruining his stomach, when he could be hiding in a back alley taking a swig out of a bottle of cheap booze.

TIME TO "SLOPE."

Officers working on the theft of several miles of copper wire from the telegraph system of the Louisville & Nashville road between Paris and Falmouth, trailed a portion of the loot to this city. It is alleged that Cash Crow, who escaped from the county warehouse last week, was one of the gang that had been engaged in looting the wire. On the morning of his escape Crow was notified that several hundred pounds of the stolen wire had been discovered hidden in his house on Eighth street. Crow stoutly maintained his innocence of any criminal connection with the possession of the wire and that it had been brought there by other parties. At any rate, he took advantage of the occasion to leave for parts unknown. The wire was returned to the L. & N.

THE TRUTH

About the Saloon!

The "Wets" tell us of the terrible things about Tennessee, now lets see what has happened in one town. Below is a letter from a reputable business man whose word on the result would have influence with any well thinking man.

R. F. TAYLOR

Merchandise Broker

106 West Main Street

MORRISTOWN, TENN., 8-21-14

DEAR SIR:—Answering yours of the 18th in regard to the comparative condition of our town before, and after the whisky went out, I want to say that the town was in far better condition on all lines after we got rid of liquor. I imagine the liquor people will use the same argument with you as they did with us—"THE GREAT LOSS OF REVENUE"—but our experience was that we did not have to change our tax rate when we got rid of liquor, to meet the loss of revenue from the liquor traffic—our tax rate was not changed for two years, and then the increase was to build a $16,000.00 school building to accommodate the increase of population, on account of having a saloonless town. With the exit of the saloon business increased on all lines. Bank deposits increased, Sunday school attendance was better on account of some children having clothing to attend church, and Sunday school, whose parents no longer spent their wages in the saloon. I do not think you could find ten men in this town who would vote for saloons to return to Morristown.

Respectfully Yours,

R. F. TAYLOR.

WETS tell us about the awful lot of revenue we will lose, destroy business and lots of other direful calamities. But how can any thing that impairs a man's usefulness, destroys his respect, manhood, earning capacity, mental, moral well-being be a town builder, and producer of wealth. Let some of the WETS explain how this can be so. Does a physician ever regulate a boil under the arm, or a sore on the body? No, he drives them out of the system. Shall we keep this SORE in our midst? Is it a good thing for our selves, children and town? Lets eliminate the SORE.

Two Big Meetings This Week At

Mr. Bourbon County Farmer

The soil in Bourbon County is noted for producing the very best grades of burley tobacco, which it yields in abundant crops, and which is by far your largest source of revenue. This advantage has increased the value of your farm lands upward of one hundred per cent. during the last ten years.

The Virginia agitators, who term themselves Prohibitionists, have served notice on the tobacco interests that after they have wiped out the saloons and the liquor traffic they propose to INAUGURATE A CRUSADE AGAINST WHAT THEY CALL "THE TOBACCO EVIL."

What applies to Virginia and tobacco manufacturing center, will also apply to Kentucky as a tobacco producing center. Indeed, some of the alleged reformers in this State have already placed themselves on record as being in favor of applying to the Kentucky Legislature for a law that will prohibit the sale of tobacco in any form.

Can you, Mr. Farmer, imagine the hardship this would work upon you?

The Prohibitionists are now asking you to help destroy the liquor traffic in Bourbon, and turn the tide of business from Bourbon County to Fayette. If they succeed they will next call on the voter of Bourbon County to help prohibit the sale of tobacco, and then destroy a market for your principal product.

THINK TWICE, MR. FARMER, BEFORE YOU VOTE ONCE

RECKLESS AUTOISTS AGAIN

There has been a great deal of complaint lately from the residents of South Main street as well as from other sections of the city in regard to the reckless driving on the streets by autoists, the home production as well as those from outside towns, it is said that on South Main especially, the street has become converted into a speedway for those who do not apparently care much for the safety of human life and limb. It is also claimed that besides the danger to pedestrians who are forced to cross the streets that these reckless drivers are forcing their machines over the streets at a gait that sometimes compels drivers of buggies and other vehicles to take to the gutters in order to avoid being smashed up. The actions of some of these joy-riders makes it highly dangerous for women and children to drive along the thoroughfares, and even the poor pedestrian is in danger should he endeavor to cross the street a square ahead of one of these machines.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS.

A series of evangelistic services under the auspices of all the Protestant churches of Paris, has been arranged for by the mutual agreement of all the pastors of the churches, to be held in a tabernacle.

A large force of volunteer workmen are busily engaged in erecting the structure, which will be located on East Seventh street, in the rear of Mrs. Russell Mann's residence. The building will require 50,000 feet of lumber, and will be comfortably equipped as regards seating arrangements. A total capacity of 3,000 persons has been provided for in the plan for the seating arrangements. The construction work is being done under the direction of Mr. Baumgardle, a man of many accomplishments, being a contractor, builder, electrician, newspaper man and a many-sided aide to the evangelist, Rev. Mordecai Hamm, of Anchorage, who will have charge of the meetings. The building will be well ventilated. The music will be under the direction of Mr. Ramsey, who as a choirster, has no superior. A large chorus and choir will be present and take part each night in the song service. Rev. Mr. Hamm will be assisted by a corps of five workers, and the nightly services promises to be the most interesting thing in Paris in many years, or since the noted Barnes meetings.

The meetings will be held in the Christian Church until the tabernacle is ready for occupancy, which will probably be on Wednesday night. The meetings were formally opened at the Christian Church Sunday night and last night there was a large attendance, with a great deal of interest being manifested.

FALL MILLINERY OPENING.

With the passing of the summer and the advent of the still, brown autumn days, the feminine mind is concerning itself with the eternal question, "What will the fall styles be like?"

The question is to be properly solved by attending the millinery opening at Mrs. Corne Watson Baird's, which will be held on Friday, September 18. Everything in millinery adornment that can help to make lovely women lovelier will be shown, fresh from the hands of artistic designers and experts in executing and carrying out the designer's ideas. The very newest and latest will be on display and a critical inspection is cordially invited. Excellence of material and a strict regard for the artistic has always marked Mrs. Baird's products, and the designs to be shown at the opening on Friday will in no wise depart from the high standard her goods have always maintained.

The ladies of Bourbon and surrounding counties are cordially invited to be our guests on next Friday, September 18, when they will find the choicest assortment to select from ever displayed in Paris.

The work of remodeling the big room in the rear of the Deposit Peoples' Bank, recently occupied by Mr. Frank Remington, is progressing rapidly, and will soon be completed. The contractors were busy yesterday putting in the iron work for the building.

L. & N. BUILDING BIG CONCRETE COAL CHUTES

One of the biggest and most needed improvements the L. & N. has under way in the Paris yards is the immense new concrete coal chutes now being constructed across the tracks just below the site of the old chutes. The new structure, considering its commonplace use, is built on artistic lines, and somewhat resembles in general outline and structural design the famous Arc de Triomphe in Paris, France. The new chutes will have a capacity of several thousand tons of coal for the coaling of the company's engines, which will be a matter of greater convenience than heretofore.

Under the new arrangement the coal is dumped from the loaded cars into an immense basin of concrete, from which it is drawn by means of a system of buckets to the big bins surmounting the chutes, and by an ingenious arrangement is dumped into the tender of the engine below without waste. Another pleasing feature of the new arrangement is that the noise and dust that made the old system of coaling so objectionable to the residents of the locality is entirely done away with.

The work on the new chutes was started last May and has been steadily progressing ever since, with the prospect of early completion.

PARIS FASHIONS IN SPITE OF WAR

New Models Which Show
Glittering Jett, Paillettes and Rhinestones.

SHORT SKIRTS
AND WIDER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.

The descent of the stupendous war cloud which has enveloped Europe was so swift and all enveloping that every one was taken by surprise. Paris was full of buyers from all the great retail and wholesale houses, completing their purchases for the winter. The order for them to leave within four days or to be detained for an indefinite period was startling in the extreme, especially as trunks would not be transported. It was a case of make or break with many of them and it immediately became a battle of wits, for no one desired to leave without their purchases, and interesting stories are told of the tenacity and ingenuity displayed.

One enterprising New York dress-maker from the regions of Fifth Avenue persuaded her party of four to discard all but absolute necessities and carry some of her models in their hand-grips. She also bought a number of very personal looking pieces of hand-luggage and filled them as well. Imagine their conservation when at the station the next morning at six o'clock there were 1,000 pieces of baggage ahead of them and the officials refused to take any more. However, with a judicious tip here and there, they were at last checked; but, instead of being put on the train for London, they were accidentally placed on the train for Liege. Madam sank back and fanned herself until her reason returned to her and then she concluded that as they were plainly marked London she would hope that they would get there, and they did.

Quite different was the spirit of London. The horrors of the war had not touched it in the same way it had Paris. In Paris an entire establishment was closed in the morning, because the husband or brother of an employee had gone to the front, only to open again in the afternoon, while over all brooded a suspense not at the time felt in London, where enthusiasm reigned. In London the children formed into little regiments and marched in the streets, with sticks for guns and tin-pans for drums, and the authorities, realizing the contagion of spontaneous enthusiasm, endeavored to let them go their way unchecked.

But to return to clothes. Some of these garments brought back with such difficulty have at last reached us, and a few, very few, openings are the consequence. As long as the uncertainty of this conflict continues each importation may be the last for some time, and therefore is of double interest.

The scintillating effect of jet paillettes and rhinestones are supreme in evening gowns and are used to trim the more staid garments for everyday wear. For instance, a charming afternoon dress of black chiffon velvet had a sash of jet which crossed in front and tied in a bow in the back. The jet was so closely and beautifully applied that the sash seemed as supple as the velvet itself instead of being heavy and unwieldy as the jetted fabrics of other days.

Another stunning lower skirt, as well as the body of the jacket, of this jetted material. The sleeves and tunic were of velvet. The wide velvet collar had a band of fitch around it.

Cloth of gold and silver are also used extensively. A wonderful gown of black satin had a tunic of cloth of gold and a wide satin girdle, or sash of black satin, swathed the waist, the ends being tied in a careless bow at the back of the left hip, in the midst of which nestled a in the midst of which nestled a

Another wonderful costume, in part like an Egyptian dancing girl's costume, the bodice like a coat of mail, had a plain, but not tight-fitting waist of steel and gold paillettes, reminding one of the wonderful old steel armors, inlaid and embossed so beautifully with gold. The waist reached to the widest point of the hips, where Egyptian effect of he costume commenced in a clinging foundation skirt of white, over which hung a tunic of gold lace. Strands of heavy, glossy jet were looped from the waist and swung low, making the tunic swing and sway in a peculiarly Oriental manner. Offsetting this Oriental note a queer narrow train, edged with a band of fur, was so arranged that in the event of dancing it could be easily caught up and mingled with the underdraperies in an unnoticeable manner.

The kirts of tailored suits and dresses are worn full short, just below the shoe-tops being considered quite a conservative length. The plain skirts are fuller, though many have their width confined by a band of fur just above the hem, making the part of the skirt showing below quite like a ruffle.

The cape effect continues in its popularity according to these Paris models, for coats with cape effects in the back and quaint shoulder capes were seen on some of the smartest garments. A costume in red velvet was a strong reminder of the scarlet robe of a cardinal with its round shoulder capes edged with beaver. A five-inch strip of this same fur banded the skirt above the hem.

Beaver, fitch, Persian lamb, and kolinsky, which is Russian pole-cat and resembles sable in color, are the furs which will be widely used. Tulle ermine is also used. A stunning opera cloak of geranium red velvet had an immense collar of pure white ermine.

The combination of fabrics continues to be a strong style note and in the first costume illustrated is shown the combination of tete de negre brown broadcloth and black satin. The new short length of baouque is used for the waist, with fronts of brown, the sleeves and sides of black satin. The tunic of brown is cut in scallops around the lower edge and bound with black braid, while the narrow lower skirt is of the black satin.

The smartly tailored suit illustrated is of dark green repp and shows the newest line of jacket and skirt. The standing velvet collar of the jacket is topped by the new high collar of the blouse, which is practically a straight piece of cloth with a straight frill around the top. On some of the more extreme waists this collar frill comes up about the face like a great white cally lily.

If the spectacle of a girl losing something is a shocking sight, most men enjoy being shocked.

People are like jokes. Nine out of every ten are poor.

What has become of the old-fashioned girl who used to come home by bed-time?

WAR NEWS.

true that Roumania, Greece and Bulgaria have agreed to prevent Ottoman intervention on behalf of Germany and Austria. The allies have been working strenuously to this end.

OCEANIC WRECKED BY MINES.
LONDON, September 11.—The official Press Bureau says the Oceanic, the White Star liner which is now in the British service as a converted cruiser, is a total wreck on the north coast of Scotland, from striking mines. The officers and crew were saved.

The Oceanic was 685 feet long and made her last trip from New York to Southampton early in August, arriving at the English port August 8. She was then taken over by the British Government and converted into an armed cruiser.

GERMANS FAIL TO BREAK ALLIES' LINES AND FALL BACK.

PARIS, September 11.—French and British successes mark the fourth day of the great battle which is being fought along the concave line extending from Meaux to Verdun, with Vitry-le-Francois in the center.

On the French left, despite repeated efforts, the Germans have failed to break through the lines of the allies on the right bank of the Ourcq River, and, though heavily re-inforced, have lost ground steadily. General Joffre and Field Marshal Sir John French are hurling more and more troops on the German flank to give their retreat further momentum.

The advance of the French is slow, but general in the furious fighting in the center.

On the right of the allies the exhausted German army has abandoned for the moment the attack on Nancy, which was made under the personal direction of Emperor William.

In the Vosges and in Lorraine the French official reports indicate that their troops are pushing forward.

The Des Debats says that fighting was resumed in the Altkirch region on September 2 and the French have repulsed the Germans, who have been driven toward the Rhine.

Despite the fact that the German right wing which has hewed its way from Mons to Paris, is in retreat, and that the German center is being pressed hard by the allies, it must be remembered that in this, the greatest battle in history, 3,000,000 men are engaged and one or two advances or retreats will not decide the battle. It is admitted it would be premature at this stage of the battle to say that the Germans were beaten or even discouraged.

There is no doubt that the German enveloping movement has completely failed and that the strategic position of the allies is the best since the beginning of the war, secure as they are in a favorable position near their own base. The French retreat on Paris was executed with such masterly skill that after their orderly retirement the army still retains its full striking strength and is much more favorably situated than the Germans for an offensive movement, because the latter have been forcing the fighting ever since their entry into Belgium and their troops have suffered from the exhausting marches and the continuous fighting.

Lack of ammunition has also embarrassed the Germans. For this reason the invaders have been forced at several points along the extensive line to retreat to unfavorable ground, giving way before the more amply supplied allies.

RHEUMATISM PAINS STOPPED.

ACUTE INDIGESTION.

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.

RINGLING CIRCUS ANNOUNCED.

World's Greatest Shows and Spectacle "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba."

Official information confirms the announcement that September 22, Ringling Bros.' Circus will give two performances in Lexington.

Many new features have been added this year, the most notable of which is the spectacle "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba." This colossal production is presented with a cost of 1,250 people, a ballet of 300 dancing girls, 735 horses, 32 camels and properties on the biggest stage in the world.

Following the spectacle, a circus program of unusual brilliancy will be presented, including an array of foreign and American acts new to the circus world. The menagerie contains 1,003 wild animals, 41 elephants, five giraffes and a "baby zoo." The circus is transported on 89 double length cars. Special arrangements have been made by the railroads to accommodate the crowds that will visit the circus from this city and the surrounding country.

There was a time when a piano box wouldn't hold what a girl had to wear when she went away on a vacation. Nowadays she can get three complete changes of costume and lingerie into a music roll.

And what has become of the old-fashioned man who used to save up his whiskers to get "barbered" every Saturday night?

No. Clairce. You should not refer to one of our haughty Princesses as Chicken à la King.

STOP THAT FIRST FALL COUGH.

Check your fall cough or cold at once—don't wait—it may lead to serious lung trouble, weaken your vitality and develop a chronic lung ailment. Get a bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey to-day; it is pure and harmless—use it freely for that fall cough or cold. If the Baby or Children are sick give it to them, it will relieve them quickly and permanently. It soothes the irritated throat, lungs and air passages. Loosens Phlegm, is antiseptic and fortifies the system against colds. It surely prevents cold germs from getting a hold. Guaranteed. Only 25c at your Druggist. (adv-sept.)

It is all right to be punctual when you have an engagement if you do not mind waiting a while for the other fellow to show up.

DIARRHOEA QUICKLY CURED

"My attention was first called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as twelve years ago. At that time I was seriously ill with summer complaint. One dose of this remedy checked the trouble," writes Mrs. C. W. Florence, Rockfield, Ind. For sale by all dealers. (adv-sept.)

When Father asks for a clean towel or wants to know who had his comb Mother can't understand a word he is saying. But if Father has two whole potatoes and a chop in his mouth and mumbles something about a girl he met down town Mother can understand every word.

CHAMBERLAIN'S LINIMENT.

If you are ever troubled with aches pains or soreness of the muscles, you will appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Liniment. Many sufferers from rheumatism and sciatica have used it with the best results. It is especially valuable for lumbago and lame back. For sale by all dealers. (adv-sept.)

There was a time when the younger sisters had to remain in the background until the older sisters were married off. But nowadays the younger sisters borrow the older sister's corset covers and puffs so they can keep dates with their fellows.

THEATRICAL.

For real novelty and wholesome amusement, the animated cartoons that are always one of the many distinctive features of Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival, are in a class by themselves. Nothing like them may be seen elsewhere as they are conceived and executed exclusively for Mr. Howe by his own staff artists who do nothing else. They invariably afford comedy—real comedy, too—that is in diverting contrast to the more dignified views of mountains, cities and seas. In the new program that will be presented at the Paris Grand, Thursday, October 1st, they will add more gaiety than ever to the joys of "traveling with Howe." They have a "punch" all their own which "gets across" to young and old alike. It is claimed for these new extravaganzas that they are more ingenious than any Mr. Howe has presented hitherto. The travesties of the serious subjects are of the most amusing nature imaginable. They are a revelation of the tricks photography can play at the expense of vision and human perception, and the results achieved would indicate that several senses need to be added to those now classified as the five special senses.

In his entirely new program Mr. Howe promises one of the most delightful picture journeys he has ever presented. It will take local "Howe travelers" to Venice—the city of the sea. The series is unique—because Venice is unique. All other cities in the world resemble each other in many respects, but Venice alone remains distinctive—a city of romance where poetry conquers prose. And it is exactly this poetic beauty of Venice that Howe's film conveys exquisitely. Of course, the new program includes numerous other noteworthy features, such as a descent into the crater of Vesuvius where spectators peer down into a vast abyss of boiling lava. Then there is a thrilling ride on a runaway train. This, too, is a descent, but at an appalling rate of speed down the mountain side and around curves—the train increasing in momentum at every foot until spectators are transfixed in suspense as to just how such an eventful trip will end. The mysterious development of flowers; the fascinating formations caused by the electrolysis of metals, and a railroad ride through Greece are only a few of the many other features to be presented.

DAY TRIP TO ST. LOUIS.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

(Cincinnati-Ensurer.)

When two men are working side by side and one is doing piecework and the other gets paid by the week, you never have any trouble locating the pieceman.

The fellow who seems to enjoy your jokes is always so busy laughing at them that he forgets to do any ordering and lets you do all the buying.

"EX-BOURBONS" EN TOUR.

In its issue of Saturday, the Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat has the following very interesting article in which well-known Paris people are central figures:

"Mr. and Mrs. John T. McClintock, Master John T. McClintock, Jr., Mrs. W. T. Colvin and Mr. Edward Fithian, of Huntington, W. Va., Miss Minnie L. Heilman and Mr. Squire Turner, of this city, enjoyed a delightful automobile trip through Ohio and Kentucky last Sunday and Monday, visiting Chillicothe, Columbus, Springfield, Coney Island and Cincinnati, O., Covington, Stringtown-on-the-Pike, Walton, Williamstown, Georgetown, and Paris, Ky. The party arrived here at noon Tuesday and were the guests for an excellent dinner of Mrs. Emilie Hibler Reid.

In the afternoon Miss Mary Crawford Lloyd delighted the party with several song selections and all were charmed with her beautiful bird-like voice. At five in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. McClintock and Mr. Fithian left for Winchester, and Mrs. Colvin and Miss Heilman returned to Huntington at noon Wednesday. Mr. McClintock is a native Kentuckian and resided at Paris and Richmond before going to Huntington where he has made a splendid success, being secretary and treasurer of the firm of Watts, Ritter & Co., and one of the leading citizens and most prominent business men of that thriving mountain city. It is gratifying to the writer to state that in all the hundreds of miles that we have traveled the best road that we encountered was the model road in Montgomery county."

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR OPEN.

The twelfth annual Kentucky State Fair opened at Louisville yesterday, and will continue throughout the week.

Many, many, good, honest men have worked hard and piled up a little fortune, and then all at once LOST all they had by just ONE foolish investment.

The following appeared recently in the newspapers about a very prominent man who died:

Despite his marvelous financial career in and around Chicago, which caused him at one time to be rated as a millionaire, he died a BANKRUPT. Most of his great fortune melted in disastrous speculations.
